(From the Daily, June 12.)

The trees in the city park are being trimmed and cared for by the street gang.

Judge W. D. Lee, who has been spending a few days at Las Vegas, returned home last night.

The eating house at Winslow, recently destroyed by fire, was again opened to the traveling public this morning.

The Guards are glad to see that the Guards are getting down to work. Let their efforts be crowned with success.

Nell Evans, engineer on the Atlantic & Pacific, is repacking over the arrival at his house last night of a brand new son.

Internal Revenue Deputy Collector Borrmann has gone to the mountains or business for Uncle Sam for a few days.

Mrs. J. B. Bushnell leaves to-morrow for a two-months' visit to relatives and friends at Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Chicago.

J. C. of the firm of Clegg & Co., cigar and tobacco dealers, St. Louis, came down from the north last night and is at the European.

John H. Riley of Las Cruces, who has been on business in Colorado for the past few weeks, will pass down the road homeward-bound this evening.

One of the newest cuttings in the city will be that owned by Summers Burkhardt, the attorney, which is now in course of erection on Tijeras street.

H. W. Wyckoff, manager for New Mexico of the Fidelity Building and Loan association, is in the city from Denver, and will establish a local branch here.

The Mitchell Bros. left last night for their timber purchase on the Atlantic & Pacific, near Chaves station. They will be absent from the city for a few days.

The Citizen understands that the Gentlemen's Driving association will give three or four interesting trotting and running races on the Fourth of July.

Mrs. J. A. Kirk, wife of Braksome Kirk of the Atlantic & Pacific road, will leave this evening for Council Bluffs, Iowa, to spend several months with relatives.

Dr. H. A. Armstrong, local surgeon of the Santa Fe road at Pueblo, was here yesterday, and left on the midnight train with Dr. Kaster for a business trip to California.

The dramatic company held a meeting this morning, and it is understood that they will render "Pantheon" at Grant's opera house, in the interest of the free library fund, at a very early date.

Mrs. C. C. Crockett, who was called to Osage City, Kansas, by a telegram announcing the death of her father, returned home last night. While away she also visited friends at Topeka.

guilty to the charge before Justice Denham, and was fined $5 and costs, which she paid. In retaliation she had Mrs. Gleiter arrested, and after trial this afternoon, before Justice Madden, she was dismissed.

Henry Carpenter, the old veteran of Taos, in the Sandia mountains, came in this morning, loaded his spring wagon with a load of goods and pulled out for home at noon. John McEvily, of Gross, Blackwell & Co., who has been on the sick list for the past few weeks, went out with Mr. Carpenter, and will rusticate at Camp Whitcomb for several weeks.

Ed. Chavez, one of Faseman Bros.' rusting wool buyers, got home this morning from his tour through Valencia county, where he purchased over a hundred thousand pounds of wool for his firm. Mr. Chavez says that he never saw the Rio Grande valley through the adjoining country look so prosperous as now, and that the farmers are adding many acres to their landholdings.

John G. Chaves, the Santa Fe live stock dealer agent for this division, appeared in the city this morning with his right foot in bandages. Yesterday while attempting to round up several steers which had escaped from the cars, he badly hurt his foot in walking out of the river. The steers were not captured, but Mr. Chaves left on Indian water to follow the stock and drive them into the city.

The petition to incorporate Gallup, which has been on file with the county commissioners since the regular meeting of the board last April, will be taken up and acted on at the next regular meeting in July. There is no doubt that the petition will be granted. Gallup is a thriving little town, brimming full of enterprising, progressive citizens, and incorporation means all times and prosperity to all. Let the board consider the petition favorably.

Messer Kingbecker, Millholland, Hinckley and Hart, four of Gallup's worthy citizens, appeared this morning before the probate judge, Jesus Aragon, from Taos, and were successful in picking up on the books of the Gallup Judge Warren represented the gentlemen from the eastern town. The papers will be mailed this evening for Santa Fe, where they will be filed in the land office. After this the probate judge will order an election held between the trustees, who say it will be to fix a value on all unclaimed and unclaimed lots on the books, and then assess to the highest bidder, the money thus realized to go into the school fund. The citizen congratulates Gallop.

Another New Mexico Mine.

Low Davis and Dick Blacker, and others whose names we failed to learn, have located a mine in the Cerro Colorado, or Red mountain, fifteen miles north of this city, within seven miles of the Santa Fe railway. The vein as far as disclosed by the cropping and some prospect work is traced for over a thousand feet, north and south, and is known to be from 8 to 50 feet wide. The ore is free milling, and also perfect fluming for smelting purposes. The ore contains 35 per cent iron, 10 per cent silver, some lime, and carries gold and silver in paying quantity at the grass roots. The country rock is lime and porphyry.

The owners purpose developing at once and banking on the Mexican Iron company, which needs being nearby, has also offered very low rates of treatment, because of the fine fluming character. The owners believe they have a bonanza.

The Electric Road.

To-morrow is the day when Contractor Trimble will commence the grading of Fourth street for the Electric street railway, and this morning the reporter meeting a representative of the Albuquerque street railway, secured the following statement relative to the attitude of the latter company toward the projected Electric road. The representative stated that the Albuquerque street railway, like any other business corporation, are determined that their legal rights shall be respected, and to that end, if necessary, they will enjoin any infringement of their franchises, which have already been adjudicated in their favor when they were attacked by the town under a former administration. The town, which needs being nearby, has also offered very low rates of treatment, because of the fine fluming character. The owners believe they have a bonanza.

El Paso Tribune.

Whether it were better to raise the city liquor license and collect the dog tax, and have money in the treasury, and bear the kicks and cuffs of the liquor dealers, and the executions of the owners of worthless dogs sent ultimately to the city pound, or see twenty treasury empty, and city warrants selling at a big discount, this is the rub that exacerbates the city alderman, and causes him to wish he was defeated at the late city election.

W. H. Hennieshee's, A. B. Wadeigh, Eugene Murray and Fred. Holtz were the young gentlemen added to the city's gallant militia organization—the other day.

The Guards, as stated yesterday in The Citizen, agreed to run an excursion to the Isleta Indian feast sometime in August. It is now ascertained that the feast will occur on the 28th of that month. It will be a most delightful excursion.

Forty thousand pounds of wool, loaded on seventeen wagons and drawn by sixty-eight horses, arrived this morning from Cebzon, in the north Rio Puerco neighborhood. The wool belonged to Messrs. Pfeifer and Heller and was sold this afternoon to the highest bidder, on Railroad avenue, Jack Crawford, for Krile & Nichols, of Trinidad, becoming the purchaser at $16.35 per hundred pounds. All the wool buyers, foreign and local, in the city, put in bids for the wool.

Several Mexican women, loose in character and morals, reside in the adobe rooms on Tijeras avenue, between Sixth and Seventh streets. They are loud in vulgarity, and at night make the rounds with their obscene language. Complaints come from the good residents of the neighborhood, and one gentleman, who resides near by and who has a family of little ones growing up, states that they should be made to remove elsewhere or to understand that they must keep indoors.

A Sad Death.

This morning at 10 o'clock, Casper Muens died at the residence of Mrs. J. C. Martin, a sister, on Second street, of heart disease, aged 30 years, 3 months and 7 days.

The deceased was a barber at the shop of A. Tessier, coming to this city last February three years ago from St. Louis, and was soon afterwards followed by his wife and one child. His health was bad, he suffering greatly with his heart, and on several occasions heretofore, during severe attacks, his life was despaired of. For the past few days he had complained considerably of a smothering sensation and excessive pains in the region of the heart, but feeling fairly well this morning, after seeing his wife and two children, with a party of ladies, safely in carriages for a day's outing in the Sandia moun-

(From the Daily, June 12.)
Jones Talinero, a prominent citizen of White Oaks, came in to the me tropolis this morning.

John Mann, the gardener, has 2,500 young peach trees, which will begin to bear next season. He will reap a big return from this investment in the near future.

A. Keen is back at his post at the First National bank, arriving from Las Vegas last evening. Mr. Keen was left with Mr. Carpenter, and will rusticate at Camp Whitcomb for several weeks.

Lem B. Stern has two engines which he purchased from a Mexican. He has an offer to sell them to a Denver party who desires to put them in the zoological gardens of that city.

L. Clyde Smith, the Pennsylvania friend of Maylett Bruner, left for Los Angeles last night. Clyde will visit the principalities of the Pacific coast and then go to his home at Munroe Park.

Secretary Salom of the Commercial club, who accidentally injured the bone of the right leg between the knee and foot, is still confined to his room. It is thought that he will be compelled to keep him for at least a week yet.

W. T. Lampe, one of the efficient clerks of the general merchandise store of Lewis Hunting, Los Angeles, is in the city to-day, registered at the Hotel Plaza. His death is suddenly a reminder that in the model of life we are.

He left behind in this town his wife, two little boys, who are visiting the mountains to-day, and who are survivors of his beloved, an aged mother, a sister, Mrs. J. C. Martin, and a brother, Fred. Munoz. To him The Citizen extends deepest condolence.

The day and hour for the funeral will be arranged when his wife returns from the mountains late this afternoon.

An Old Man Buried.

Among the passengers on the Santa Fe from the south last night was George Taylor, a veteran of the Grand Army, who enlisted in the 12th New York regiment under General Butterfield. He stopped over here, and this morning, while in the store of F. G. Pratt & Co., he fell into a faint. Dr. Dixie was sent for and Mr. Taylor soon afterwards rallied. He is owner of a large vineyard and orchard at Griswold, Cal., thirty-five miles from Marysville, Cal., the nearest railroad station, and is quite well to do. Several years ago he became lame, and left home, amounting to $1,000, and left for California via Cleveland, Ohio, with $280 in money and a draft for $600 in his clothing. At Cleveland he was taken ill and employed a man nurse to attend him. One morning the nurse was missing, and with him went the money and draft of Mr. Taylor. The master was reported to the police, but the thief was not captured. Fortunately he had purchased a through ticket, but wherever he was compelled to stop by sickness the Grand Army members and the Odd Fellows, of which he is a member, have contributed to his wants.

This afternoon Post Commander Denham called on him, and Mr. Taylor will be assisted by the post and Odd Fellows of this city. He desires to leave this evening for the west.

Grant County at the Fair.

The county commissioners have appointed D. P. Carr, of this city, to collect and prepare for exhibition at the Territorial fair, at Albuquerque, on September 14th to 18th next, samples of the products of Grant county.

The commissioners will make a liberal appropriation to pay the expenses of such collection, and the people should not neglect this opportunity to make the grandest display of Grant county's products ever exhibited. Any persons desiring to exhibit samples of grains, grasses, fruits, vegetables, ores, building and ornamental stones, gold, silver and copper bullion, and other articles, are requested to write to Mr. Carr, at this city, who will make the necessary arrangements therefor.

In many things Grant county should lead in such an exposition, and this opportunity to do so should not be neglected.

Mr. Carr has an extended acquaintance in the territory, and through his writings has acquired a wide reputation, and Grant county's exhibit in his hands will not fail to attract universal attention.

At a later date Mr. Carr will make a thorough canvass of the county for the purpose of making the exhibit as complete as possible. Silver City Sentinel.

Death of Dr. Bradley.

The Citizen this morning received a letter from S. D. Cady, giving a brief account of the illness and subsequent death of Dr. Augustus L. Bradley, formerly of this city, at Salt Lake City, Utah, the other day. The deceased came to his death from an attack which had formed on the left side of his body, caused by an injury he received about a year ago in Salt Lake City during a run-away in which the horse ran over him.

After leaving this city a few months ago, still complaining of his side, he went to Chicago for treatment, but securing no benefit he left for Salt Lake City to die surrounded by his wife and friends. The doctor leaves a brother in New York and a son, whose whereabouts at present are unknown. For years he was an honored and respected dentist of this city, and his death is sadly regretted. Mrs. Bradley will probably remain in Salt Lake City.

A Sad Death.

This morning at 10 o'clock, Casper Muens died at the residence of Mrs. J. C. Martin, a sister, on Second street, of heart disease, aged 30 years, 3 months and 7 days.

The deceased was a barber at the shop of A. Tessier, coming to this city last February three years ago from St. Louis, and was soon afterwards followed by his wife and one child. His health was bad, he suffering greatly with his heart, and on several occasions heretofore, during severe attacks, his life was despaired of. For the past few days he had complained considerably of a smothering sensation and excessive pains in the region of the heart, but feeling fairly well this morning, after seeing his wife and two children, with a party of ladies, safely in carriages for a day's outing in the Sandia mountains, he came down to the shop and shaved John Pfeifer this last work, but on growing infatuated for his home, in the rear of Mrs. Martin's, and on reaching the corner of Second street and Copper avenue he invited Dr. Winslow, who was passing in his buggy, and asked him to take him to his sister's. The doctor noticed the dangerous condition of Mr. Muens, whom he tenderly assisted out of the buggy on reaching the residence and placed him in a chair on the thick porch at Mrs. Martin's. His sufferings were intense, the proper remedies were administered by the doctor but without avail, and kind, loving hands fanned him to give him plenty of air. Finally he grew deathly weak, and turning to his sister, with the palor of death in his face, said: "I can't sit up any longer, let me down." He was carried into a room, gently laid upon a bed and fifteen minutes was a corpse, remarking to the doctor just before his eyes closed in death, that "he wanted more air." A slight flow of blood came from the mouth, which is evidence that a blood vessel had been strained in his suffocation and unequal battle for life.

Billy Trimble, late of Las Vegas, has left the city, and it is authoritatively asserted that a few creditors in the city have mourned his forced absence.

H. S. Nones, the railroad "taker" for the Travelers' Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., came down from the north last night and is in the city today.

Last evening the annual meeting of the long courtship, between Palmer Kettner, chief clerk of the Aztec Coal company, and Miss Annie Wells, was organized in the presence of a number of friends. Fred Hilton, of the local office of the Glendale Coal company, was present, and he stated that the bride looked blushing pretty in her bridal trousseau, and that Mr. Kettner was the personification of a handsome benevolent in the regulation black. Miss Wells will be remembered as the guest of Mrs. James Lang last winter, and while in the city she made many friends. The Citizen congratulates the happy couple.

A. C. Norwood, whose ranch is located in the Chilili neighborhood, arrived in the city this morning with 112 sacks of wheat, the spring crop from his flock of sheep.

Rev. James Menhall has returned from the Presbyterian general assembly at Dallas. He was absent four weeks, and took part in all the proceedings of that distinguished body.

H. T. McKinney, whose location is out in the Sandia mountains, at the celebrated Star mine, came in from his retreat this morning, and was noticed in conversation with Dr. Strachan.

Mrs. James Menhall has returned from the Presbyterian general assembly at Dallas. He was absent four weeks, and took part in all the proceedings of that distinguished body.

Frank Farquharson and bride, nee Miss Bertha McEwen, returned from their bridal trip to California last night, and this morning were looking at some nice furniture for the purpose of going to housekeeping.

Mrs. Ella Bonsall, the handsome daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bonsall, of the old town, is here from Nogales, Arizona, and is the guest of Mrs. John Trimble. The lady took in the social corps of the drum corps at the Armory last evening.

W. G. McCormick, one of the Atlantic & Pacific brakemen between this city and Winslow, reached his 25th birthday yesterday, and to quietly but pleasantly celebrated the event. He also secured a lay off for ten days, which he will enjoy either in this city or in the adjacent mountains.

The old frame Congregational church building was moved from the lot on Broadway this morning to the corner of Second street and Marquette avenue. The job of moving was admirably superintended by W. L. Trimble, while J. H. Drury will put the house in shape for re-opening.

Mrs. Sam Boucher, wife of the night yard foreman at the depot, and sister of Conductor Nally, with her mother and children, arrived last night from Newton, Kansas, and will make this city their home.

Wilkie Hodson, gang foreman at the Atlantic & Pacific shops, has quit the employ of the company, and will go to Cerrillos to accept a job in the Cash Envelope mine.

Base Ball Notes.

The Albuquerque Juniors have organized and are open for challenges from any kid mine in the territory. They have also secured suits, the same color and style of the seniors.

Short Stop Beckie will reach his 25th birthday Saturday, and it is understood that he will treat a number of his friends to an elegant lunch at the Scott Moore house this evening.

The Las Vegas Stars will play the Albuquerqueans on home grounds Sunday, June 21. The efficient secretary of the local team, P. J. Carey, has perfected all satisfactory arrangements. The home boys will give the Las Vegas team two games—on July 4th and 5th—in the meadow city.

The Winslow base ball club have an invitation to play a match game of base ball in Prescott on the Fourth for a big purse. The committee on sports made a like offer to the Albuquerqueans, but the local players could not spare the time necessary in visiting Prescott, from their business.
